

IMPACT

Remote-first leadership. Design-led growth.

HashiCorp is the leading multi-cloud infrastructure company (#4 on Forbes' Cloud 100 in 2020), and a remote-first company since its inception.

I joined HashiCorp in January 2020 to lead and grow a remote first, globally distributed design team (US, Canada, UK, Germany) working on Terraform, the industry leading cloud infrastructure orchestration platform.

While the details of my current work at HashiCorp are confidential, I have published case studies about some of the challenges I've worked through and my impact on the organization through the Plato mentoring platform.
